F. H. S. Seniors Awarded $38,000 Scholarships; Larsen Is Elected Nassau Legion Commander

Member of Story Post Named at Convention Held Here; the Slate

O. Howard Larsen, past commander of William Clinton Story Post, A.L., was elected commander at the annual Nassau County American Legion convention held in the Freeport High School Saturday. He served as county treasurer last year. Larsen and the members of his staff were immediately installed by Maurice Stember, state adjutant, and a member of Story Post.

The only contest was for the office of second division commander, in which Robert Downing, of Baldwin, defeated George Knight, of Seaford, by a vote of 89 to 83. On the loser's motion the vote was made unanimous.

Others named to office were Gilbert Chichester, New Hyde Park, adjutant; Eugene Krause, Lynbrook, treasurer; James Donagan, Floral Park, first division commander; and Earle Hooper, Port Washington, third division commander. Robert D. Campbell, president of the county past commanders, presented a past commander's pin to Herman W. Heuck, of Williston Park, who served as county commander during the year just closed.

The principal address was delivered by the Rev. Edward J. Carney, of Massachusetts, national chaplain of the American Legion. He commended Adjutant Stember for the assistance he has given him in his visits to various sections of the county.

Reports showed the 62 posts in Nassau have a membership of 8,412, with Hempstead replacing Story Post, as the largest unit, with a total of 708. Story Post had maintained this honor for several years.

Past commander Heuck was delegated to attend the national convention to be held in Los Angeles, Calif., from Oct. 8 to 12. Thirty-seven delegates were chosen to attend the State convention opening in Syracuse on Aug. 10. Past County Commander William C. Hausler, of Wantagh, was endorsed for election as commander of the Tenth District. Mrs. Florence Taylor, of Mineola, state auxiliary vice-president, is a candidate to ascend to the presidency next year. The convention was adjourned in memory of William T. Harris, of Malverne, a past county commander. Dinner was served in the Legion dugout following adjournment.

Barbara Ruth Valentine, who was strangled in her sleep on Monday morning in her home, 49 South Main st. Burial was in Greenfield Cemetery.

Barbara's mother, Ruth Elizabeth Valentine, 30, is said by the police to have confessed killing her daughter by choking her with her jumping rope "because the world is an unhappy place to live in."

Leutenant Arthur Wulff was sitting at the desk in Police Headquarters about 5 A.M. Monday, when the telephone rang and a woman identifying herself as Mrs. Valentine said:

"I've just killed my daughter." Police were immediately assigned to the case. They attempted to revive the girl with an inhalator. Failing the Fire Department Emergency squad was called in with its resuscitator. However, Dr. Bernard Markowitz pronounced her dead.

Mrs. Valentine was taken into custody and lodged in the Nassau County Jail after waiving examination on a first degree murder charge in the Mineola Court before District Court Judge George S. ### Freeport 'Y' Branch Possible Next Fall

Exchange Club Speakers Cite Demand for Unit; Tell of L. I. Growth

Possibilities of establishing a Y.M.C.A. Branch in Freeport, were considered at a luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club in Guy Lombardo's East Point House.

He said he would like to see such a plan carried out in the fall.

Mr. Thompson cited statistics showing the growth of Y.M.C.A. on Long Island since the last War. He said seven new Y.M.C.A. branches were in operation on Long Island, 16,000.

Many Laud E. A. Rice, Retiring Postmaster, At Testimonial Dinner

Senator Mead, Duxsee, Kinsey, Vollmer Among Speakers; Gets Gift

Postmaster Edward A. Rice, who will be succeeded by Mrs. Mary E. Bannan on Saturday, was lauded by numerous speakers at a testimonial dinner given him Thursday night in Guy Lombardo's East Point House.

The speakers included former U.S. Senator James M. Mead, who was responsible for Mr. Rice's appointment by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt 16 years ago;

Dostal officials, Mayor Robert L. Duxsee, Sheriff H. Alfred Vollmer, Republican leader; and Fire Chief Robert N. Kinsey all joined in adding their tribute to the guest of honor. Commissioner of Juries Thomas E. Thompson, presented traveling bags to both Mr. and Mrs. Rice.

The dinner was sponsored by the Nassau County Postmasters Association and Postmaster Joseph Marra, of Floral Park, officiated as toastmaster. The Rev. John P. Drab, assistant pastor of Our Holy Redeemer E.C. Church, gave the invocation.

Mayor Duxsee spoke of Mr. Rice as a personal friend, remarked that he had never before had the honor of such a testimonial to honor a retiring postmaster, and welcomed Ex-Senator Mead to Freeport.

Chief Kinsey said the postmaster had been a member of the Department for 42 years, and that it was during his term as chief that the first motorized apparatus was purchased to replace the horse drawn trucks.

Sheriff Vollmer started his remarks with "my fellow Democrats," drawing a big laugh, and spoke mainly of Mr. Rice as a member of the local lodge of Elks.

Mr. Mead predicted that the Senate would restore some of the appropriations and prevent the drastic curtailment steps in the delivery of postal service in response to the economy orders issued by the department. He commended the administration of President Harry S. Truman for strengthening the free world, saying he was "binding the nations in a steel band of unity" and will bring us closer to world peace than any other political leader in the world today.

Postmaster Rice expressing his appreciation for the gifts and all the kind things said about him, told of his efforts to have the fire department mechanized. He said the proposition was first voted down, but that after three big fires broke out in one night, the first engine, the Jumbo, was purchased, and others shortly afterward.

Guests of the evening included Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Edward Deluto, the former Miss Rice; Charles A. Dillon,

A splendid company supports the stars, including Robert Lowry, Gerald Cornell, Hans Robert, Genevieve Frizzell, Mary Laslo, Paul Kirk Giles, Russell Morrison, Alvin Sullum, Adele Robertson, Milton J. Williams. The play has been staged by William Harmon. The sets are by Donald Oenslager. The next attraction starting Tuesday will be Maxwell Anderson's chronicle of King Henry the Eighth and his ill-starred Queen Anne Boleyn, "Anne of the Thousand Days." Matinees are on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

Socialism, Here We Come

During the days of the depression a high school graduating class had for its motto "W.P.A. Here We Come."

We all thought things were pretty hard then and this graduating class caused quite a bit of comment in the nation's press. Times and conditions have changed since the days of W.P.A. . . . and they are due to change quite a bit more. I'm wondering if the Valedictorian's address in the year 1960 might run something like this:

"Mr. Chairman, members of the Board of Education, members of the faculty, ladies and gentlemen, the members of the class of 1960 wish to thank you.

"We want to thank you for the education you have provided for us and the provisions you have made for us in our lives to come after graduation.

"When we look back on the time when our grandfathers stood on this platform at their commencement, we realize what fear they must have had of their future.

"It was along about the turn of the century then and their commencement speaker told them about the great frontiers which were waiting for strong men.

"So, our grandfathers left this platform with a prayer in their hearts that they might conquer the frontiers and be worthy of their children and grandchildren.

"Our grandfathers worked hard and promised themselves that by their efforts their children would lead more comfortable lives. So along came mother and father to their graduation night and they were told by the commencement speaker that there were wonderful opportunities for them.

"There were opportunities to work and help bring the world out of the chaos caused by the great war which was fought to preserve Democracy.

"But tonight, at this Commencement, through your work and planning, you have made it possible for us to enter the world without fear.

"You say nothing about frontiers to conquer, nor opportunities for work, and you haven't even mentioned incentive.

The Editor's Notebook

"Diservice to this nation. It often appears as if Washington is no longer peopled by good, solid, liberty loving Americans, but by short-sighted, power grabbing politicians eager to secure themselves even at the price of sacrificing this nation.

Now the "Amerasia" case with its missing and stolen secret documents and seven doubtful characters is back on the scene.

No one loves a "witch-hunt" . . . But war and a lost war is loved less.

Today our nation is entitled to know that a thorough, relentless, bi-partisan shake-down of federal employees is to be made; that racketeers and gangs with political influence are to be prosecuted.

Today, our nation is entitled to have AMERICANS representing them and working for them in this government.

The time has come, my friends, when Washington and America needs STATESMEN, not mere party members.

We wish all Americans might think on these things just a bit come Fourth of July.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, The LEADER: A reader this week stated that there are "no playgrounds for school-age children" in Freeport.

I think he will be interested and pleased to know that four of our public schools here—the Archer st., Cleveland ave., Columbus ave. and Seaman ave. schools, all in Freeport, are conducting summer playground activities beginning Monday, July 3. They will be open daily from 9 A.M. till 12 noon, and from 1 P.M. to 4 P.M.

Boys and girls between four and sixteen years of age will be welcomed; the pre-school group in the morning sessions only. (Most children that age need afternoon naps or rest-periods, anyway.) These playgrounds will all be supervised; providing safety as well as fun. There will be arts and crafts, team games, sports, etc. And, of course, all free.

Surely a fine answer to the problem of keeping our youngsters healthy, safe, and happy during the long summer vacation. Bless Freeport.

Respectfully,

MRS. GIL JAMESON
Freeport, L.I., June 24.

Dear Editor:

Why bring more industries to Freeport? Does having a great number of light industries in a community make it a better community? Mr. Molthrop says that we should ask ourselves why we live in Freeport, and what the advantages and disadvantages are.

My answer to these questions is that I'm satisfied with Freeport the way it is. I chose Freeport as a place to live because I liked the small, quiet residential town that it was. Let's keep it that way!

MRS. E. K.

Dear Editor:

I think the articles on light industry are excellent. We need light industry in Freeport. We need employment problem and if we can develop light industry here fewer people will need to commute. Light industry will also help reduce taxes. I am all for light industry and hope your series of articles bring results.

JOHN MARTELS.

Dear Mr. Clements:

Congratulations on your fine editorial with reference to the "Declaration of Conscience" drawn up by Senator Margaret Chase Smith and signed by a few others including Senator Irving M. Ives of New York State. You are to be especially congratulated for this is the first reference of any kind I have seen made in Nassau County to this statesmanlike declaration.

Does the silence of Nassau County Republicans mean that they approve the rabble rousing of Senator McCarthy? To one who is not a politician but only a citizen, it seems to me that Senator McCarthy and those who approve his tactics have struck a new low in American public performance. The response of approval to Senator Smith's declaration was almost null.

I am afraid that the Grand Old Party has sunk farther than we think. I was born in the state of Vermont which is very close to the state of Maine in more ways than one. Up there it is still a great honor to be called a Republican. Senator Smith and her co-signers have rendered a great service in calling attention to the fact that there is not much hope for a party that hopes to ride to victory "through selfish political exploitation of fear, bigotry, ignorance, intolerance. . . . We are Republicans. But we are Americans first."

Your insight into the value of such a declaration and your editorial approval is to be highly commended. I wish we could have more in Nassau County.

Very truly yours,

(Rev.) C. NEWMAN ROGIE

How to Attract New Industries to Freeport

How Other American Communities Are Attracting New Industries

CHAPTER IV

By DAVID M. MOLTHROP

Many American cities have joined the crusade to make their communities more depression proof. Dayton, Ohio, for example is not waiting for mass unemployment to develop and then run to Washington, D.C. for Federal aid to help them out of trouble. Dayton has already planned and assigned priorities to valuable public works projects to be sponsored, paid for and run by Dayton without becoming beholden to Washington in the event unemployment should become a problem in their city.

Elyria, Ohio, has a plan that has operated successfully through periods of war, depression and prosperity. Twenty-six plants in Elyria switch employees back and forth between plants to keep their people working year around.

Hazleton, Pennsylvania, raised over $550,000 about $12 per capita, to attract new industry to provide employment to take up the slack created by the running out of coal deposits in the area. Electric Auto Lite Co. recently was attracted to Hazleton.

Darby, Montana's population dwindled to about 600 when some absentee-owned industries left town after cutting over the timber in the area. Then through investing local capital in a saw mill and wood working operation the town has been saved and its citizens are finding employment at home.

Ft. Smith, Arkansas, attracted six new industries in 1946-47 including nationally known American Can Co., Trailmobile and Dixie Votive. They raised a fund of over $600,000 to help attract new industries.

Pasadena, California, has the reputation of being one of America's most successful in attracting new industries. They discourage big industry unless it conforms to certain prescribed beauty requirements regarding land-scaping, etc. It has quite a few high-precision industries.

Rye, New York—Elimination of traffic problem has added tremendously to local merchants revenue.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is getting a face lifting and at the same time is eliminating a flood menace, creating additional employment.

Buchanan, Georgia, 700 Population—Built a plant to provide employment for their young people as they wouldn't have to go to the larger cities for employment opportunity. This town built their own plant. It now provides 200 jobs in the shirt industry.

Mississippi—BAPT plant. The Mississippi Balance Agriculture Work Industry Plan is a perfect example of a state handling its own problems without running to Washington. Any community in Mississippi can vote for a bond issue to build new plants in the community. For example an industry that promises jobs for a Mississippi community will find the citizens willing to build the plant and the State willing to give tax concessions to encourage new industry. The industrialist can rent the building for a nominal rental for twenty years with the rent applied to purchase the building if the industrialist so desires.

The Arkansas Story—Since 1940 800 new industries have been attracted to Arkansas. Mr. Hamilton Moses, Chairman of the Board of Arkansas Power and Light and Chairman of the Arkansas Development Board, has worked hard to provide Arkansas with the opportunity to prosper in their State. He has done a great deal in promoting the advantages for industry to locate in Arkansas.

The leaders of Freeport should do all within their control to make sure that in the near future the New York State Legislature, a sound and workable merit rating provision be placed in the New York Unemployment Compensation Law.

Ever since the law was first passed in New York both employers and employees have made a racket of this New York law. The result, New York is losing new industry every day because states like Kentucky, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, etc., have a zero rating for employers that stabilize employment. Example, under present New York Law it is costing an employer with 400 employees and a million dollar annual payroll 2.7 per cent in U. C. Tax or $27,000 in New York State, compared to no U. C. Tax in the above mentioned States if the employer provides year around employment for its people.

The recent school election in which the citizens of Freeport voted nearly 4 to 1 for a new $1,300,000 grade school for the south end of Freeport shows a marked animosity upon the part of Freeport citizens to move forward with ever better facilities for making a finer community. The various local civic associations, the P.T.A. and other civic minded groups showed what could be accomplished when the combined efforts of these groups put their shoulder to the wheel of civic improvement.

The Long Island Association could also aid immeasurably in attracting new industry to Freeport. It is noted that this active association has been concentrating on getting new industry for the center of L.I. and the North Shore. Why have they overlooked Freeport? Maybe it's because the Long Island Association thinks that Freeport's local merchants, its civic leaders or its citizens don't want new industry. If we do want new industry let's let everyone who can help us know we are sincere in our efforts and desire to get new industry.

Freeport is blessed in having already assembled large tracts of business and industry zoned property. This land in its present state is practically worthless and isn't bringing in one dime's worth of revenue to help reduce taxes for Freeport homeowners. With light, water and sewers this new use will bring new sources of revenue to help pay for local county and school taxes and afford the opportunity for Freeport citizens to work at home.

Whether or not Freeport attracts new industry depends on you. If the citizens and its leaders really want to do the job it can be done. Freeport shows a chance to put its positive and constructive foot forward or it can continue as it has in the past of letting nature take its course, and suffer the consequence. In the retail field Freeport has lost its leadership to other towns, Garden City and other Long Island units have taken the initiative to attract new industries away from Freeport. We have lost industry in the past through complacency and a half-hearted interest in wanting industry. Is Freeport now ready to go ahead—we'll soon see!

Shubert School Wins Baldwin Baseball Title

The Shubert School sixth grade baseball team defeated Plaza School 12 to 3 and won the Baldwin grade school trophy to make it a perfect sports record for the Shubert boys during the 1949-1950 school year.

In competition with the five other elementary schools of Baldwin earlier this year the sixth graders captured the basketball and football trophies. The baseball victory culminated the inter-school sports competition and resulted in a 14-0 won and lost record for the Shubert boys in all three athletic events.

Scores in baseball against the five other schools were as follows: Shubert 15, Lenox 14; Shubert 14, Coolidge 5; Shubert 15, Plaza 4; Shubert 6, Prospect 5; Shubert 19, Steele 1.

Lloyd McMillen, officiated as manager of the team; Curt Sahner was captain. Other members of the team were:

The Shubert School P.T.A. to show its appreciation for the boys' successful season, is planning a special gift to be awarded later this month.

Edward L. Dejnozka, sixth grade teacher at Shubert School, coached the three teams this year.

Charles P. Buckleys Celebrate Golden Wedding

Give Family Dinner Party For 30 at S.S.Y.C.; Sons' Constitute Law Firm

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Buckley, sr., 128 Harrison ave., Baldwin, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, by giving a dinner to a family group of 30, including their four sons, two daughters and four grandchildren, in the South Shore Yacht Club. Mr. Buckley and the former Miss Laura Clark, of Brooklyn, were married in the Emanuel Congregational Church, Decatur st.,

Brooklyn, on June 20, 1900, by the Rev. Dr. Ingersoll, then the pastor. Several members of the wedding party of half a century ago were invited to the celebration but were unable to attend.

Two years after their marriage the Buckleys moved to Harrison ave., Baldwin, where they have lived ever since. Mr. Buckley, formerly an auditor of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, is now retired. He was one of the organizers of the Baldwin Lodge of Masons, and is treasurer of the First Baldwin Methodist Church. Mr. Buckley has kept up his active membership in the Central Y.M.C.A., Brooklyn, which he thinks is longer than another member of the branch. He was secretary of the Baldwin Draft Board for seven and a half years.

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Buckley, Charles P. Buckley, Jr., and John Buckley, constitute the law firm of Buckley & Buckley, 23 South Main st. Fred M., another son, is a Baldwin contractor, while David is in the contracting business in Freeport. Their two daughters are Mrs. Eleanor Painter, wife of Earle V. Painter, chiropractor, who was for 13 years trainer of the New York Yankees, and Mrs. Margaret Hurley, of Baldwin.

Madison's Gift Shoppe Under New Manager

Louis B. Greenberg, Long Resident of China Takes Over its Management

Madison's Gift Shoppe, 12 West Merrick rd., operated until recently by Raymond Disco, has been taken over by Louis B. Greenberg, who with his wife have spent most of their lives in China. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity in that city and also belongs to the Temple in San Francisco. The Greenbergs are past matron and patron of Ching Hai Chapter No. 3, O.E.S. He also was associated with sporting activities in China and helped to found the B'hai 87th hospital in that country.

Mr. Greenberg was for more than a quarter of a century chairman of the Jewish Recreation Club of Ching Hai, and one of its founders. He also was for many years a member of the executive committee of the former Shanghai Football Association. Prior to his departure for the United States, members of the Jewish Recreation Club gave a reception for Mr. Greenberg which was attended by representatives of other groups in the city.

During the war, Mr. Greenberg was summoned for interrogation by

LOUIS B. GREENBERG

Goya, erstwhile "King of the Jews" in Hong-Kong and secretly been continuing to promote sports. A large silver plaque was presented him at the farewell reception and he was made an honorary life member of the recreation group.
